Leicester. Sep. 12. 1868.

101

Dear Mr Garrison.

Just after my letter to Mrs Garrison was put into the post-office came a kind invitation from Mr Edmund Jackson which with Mr Mayo's advice I accepted at once. He can meet me at the station all the same to go to Sutton on Tuesday, & afterwards I shall be nearer to you, so that we may be able to pay that visit to Fairmount which I should grieve to leave unaccomplished.

May I trouble you so far as to have my trunk sent for me to

Dear Mr Spencer.

Just after my letter to Mr Spencer was put into the post-box Mr Young called Therefore what could Mr Young write
I was engaged to be married on Wednesday
I shall see Mr Spencer to-morrow and shall be very glad to hear as many details as I may like to know
Yours sincerely
Florence Nightingale.

55 Brookline St. Then I can use it while in Boston, Make it. with me to Cambridge. I have decided to sail in the City of Paris on the 10th of October, so my pleasant sojourn in your land is drawing near its close. How many happy grateful memories I shall carry home with me!

In haste, with love to your circle Faithfully & affectionately Yours

Mary A Ritchie.

Mr Pillsbury has gone home; two days after our visit to his family. He purposely avoids me I am sure!

Ms. A. 1. 2 v. 36, p. 50B